General Fees

For students from non-EEA countries without a permanent residence permit, the registration fee is € 1,000. This applies to all degree programmes. Students who completed a Bachelor's degree at SRH University Heidelberg and then immediately begin a Master's degree programme are exempted from this fee. It also does not apply for participants in a module programme or auditing students.

Tuition fees and advance payments

The monthly tuition fees cover all regular courses and events associated with the degree programme in which the student is enrolled as well as the language courses offered by the university. Fees must be paid for the full duration of the degree programme, and at a minimum for the standard study period ("Regelstudienzeit").

- Students from Non-EEA countries without permanent residence permit applying for a degree programme are required to pay the tuition fees for one semester in advance. From the second semester onwards the payments for the remaining semesters of study are due six weeks before the end of the period of study already paid for. The payments have to be done semesterwise.
- For residency reasons, leave cannot be granted for a voluntary internship to students required to have a visa. Any other planned leave must be agreed in advance with the responsible authority for the residency permit.
- Leave cannot be granted during mandatory internship periods because mandatory internships are a required component of the study programme and form part of the standard study period. If a student completes a voluntary internship without having been granted leave during this period, normal study fees apply.
- Tuition fee discounts for up-front payment:
  - One year in advance: 3%
  - Full programme in advance: 5%

Reduction of the tuition fees

The tuition fees for the standard period of study may be reduced if

- the student has a close family member (sibling, parents, children, spouse) who is attending or attended SRH Universities,
- the student has completed a Bachelor's degree at one of the SRH Universities and has now been accepted to a Master's degree programme.

In such cases, a discount of 10% will be applied to the tuition fees for the standard period of study.

All employees of SRH Universities are eligible for a 10% employee discount to the tuition fees for the standard period of study in cases in which the student is in employment subject to full social security contributions at the SRH universities. The reductions of the tuition fees mentioned above may not be combined, nor applied in combination with in-house scholarships.

Scholarship rules

The current rules governing scholarships at SRH University Heidelberg are either publicly available on the university website during the scholarship application period or can be requested from the Admission Office at SRH University Heidelberg.

Module programme / Auditing students

- Participants in a module programme pay a fee of € 150/credit point (ECTS) corresponding to the credit points of the module in which they are enrolled.
- Auditing students pay a fee of € 120/credit point (ECTS) corresponding to the credit points of the class/module they are auditing. This is only possible if the capacity of the class/module (maximum number of participants) is not exceeded due to the auditing student's participation and the applicable fees are paid in advance upon conclusion of the contract. Auditing students are not eligible to participate in examinations.

Otherwise, the provisions of the enrolment agreement and the programme-related statutes of SRH University Heidelberg apply at all times.
